

SYNTHETIC MATTRESSES FOR EROSION CONTROL

- the three dimensional synthetic structure, by polymers, which is purposely engineered for trapping a layer of topsoil, thus avoiding rainfall erosion by both sheltering the surface against the impact of raindrops and by restricting the movement of the soil particles; it serve retaining topsoil and to foster a continuous vegetation cover;
- Functions: R=reinforcement; erosion control.